Corrigan Tries to Go Over Head of Judge Trevelyan.

BAD RIDE DEFEATS FAVORITE

Judge Post Takes the Six-furlong Handicap at New Orleans—Corrigan's Entries Favorites in First and Second Events, but Fail to Land First Money—Summaries.

New Orleans, March 8.—The action of E. Corrigan, of the Western Turf Association, in asking the license committee to revoke the license of Judge Trevelyan, for several alleged bad rides on the crack filly Notsula, has caused a lot of trouble in the ranks of the stockholders in the City Park Jockey Club.

Corrigan requested Judge Trevelyan, who several days ago refused to rule the jockey off the turf at Corrigan's request.

Corrigan then sent messages to the various members of the license committee calling special meeting here, Judge Trevelyan to-day tendered his resignation as an official at City Park because of Corrigan's action in going over his head, on the part of McIntyre.

President Heupel refused to accept and said there was no evidence that Trevelyan's resignation, and Trevelyan said he would remain presiding judge merely on account of being a personal friend of Heupel.

The feature race of the day—a handicap at six furlongs—was a disappointment, Colquhoun being beaten by Judge Post owing to a bad ride. Colquhoun was an even-money favorite.

The Corrigan interests supplied the favorites in the first and second events, but second was the best they could get, Begonia, one of these, finished second in the first race, Orient, a 10-furlong, winning. Catherine II. was the other choice furnished by Corrigan, but Sally Preston outran her, and she finished in the third.

The odds-on favorite in the two-year-old event was defeated by Zephie, who won from start to finish. John L. Inglis, the odds-on favorite in the seven-furlong event, won after a hard ride.

Goldwyn won the sixth and Miss Leeds the closing event.
